Introduction

Welcome to Print Training Australia!

We are pleased to have you with us. Whether you are a part-time or full-time participant, we want you to enjoy and benefit from your training program. A nationally recognised training program ensures your career moves in the right direction.

Individuals are increasingly capitalising on the competitive advantage gained by improving their skills and knowledge. Competent, well-trained individuals are equipped with the skills and flexibility needed to adapt quickly to the rapid pace of change in the workplace.

Print Training Australia is a registered training organisation committed to lifelong learning and ongoing skills development. Print Training Australia is playing an important role in fostering employment growth, promoting a training culture, and creating a framework for effective training and job opportunities.

Print Training Australia places great emphasis on attracting the most competent trainers and assessors while ensuring a safe, inclusive, and productive environment for all our participants, staff, and associates.

Print Training Australia provides:

- > learning that is workplace relevant and improves career opportunities
- > flexible training options that recognise the needs of each individual
- > trainers and assessors with current and relevant industry experience and expertise
- > innovative and responsive training delivery
- > learning programs that make sense in the work environment
- > participants with the required skills and knowledge for the future
- > hands on practical skills linked to underpinning knowledge
- > a dynamic learning environment that evolves to meet changing needs and contemporary demands
- > training that leads to career advancement

As a registered training provider, Print Training Australia strives to ensure quality in all aspects of training and assessment, whilst meeting the requirements of all applicable governing bodies.

In this document any reference to "Print Training Australia", or "PTA" is a reference to Humanagement Pty Ltd (A.C.N. 101 225 021) (A.B.N. 20 101 225 021) trading as "Print Training Australia" (TOID 40122).

Training Program Information

Print Training Australia incorporates adult learning principles into the training and assessment strategies of all its training programs.

Print Training Australia will, prior to the training program commencement, give participants all relevant information about the program of study, availability of learning resources and appropriate support services. A pre-training review will also be conducted to identify any specific needs, including skills recognition or Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) that individuals may have.

Print Training Australia will ensure that training and assessment occurs in accordance with the requirements of the training program and the endorsed Training Package and where appropriate, the Training Package guidelines for customising.

Participants are encouraged to take responsibility for their own learning and to actively participate in the learning and assessment process.

Print Training Australia prides itself on its 'people development' through training programs. Training programs can assist participant's progression pathways within their workplace.

Course Information

Participants will receive the following information that will assist in better understanding their rights:

- > A detailed course outline which provides information on the course content
- > Session schedules and length of course
- > Access and equity information
- > Language, literacy and numeracy support
- > Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) or Credit Transfer procedures
- > Appeal and Complaints process
- > Fees, charges and refunds information
- > Pre-requisites for entry into the training program
- > Assessment methods to be used
- > Qualifications issued
- > Entry pathways, further training and career pathways

Pre-Training Review

Print Training Australia will conduct a pre-training review for each individual participant. The pre-training review provides a detailed outline of the training program, final training plan negotiation, a language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) assessment, a copy of the participant handbook and an opportunity to apply for recognition of prior learning or credit transfer (both forms of 'skills recognition').

Pre-training reviews ensure that all participants are enrolled in suitable training programs and help identify individual or any special learning needs. Participants requiring assistance or support such as in language, literacy, or numeracy, are encouraged to discuss their needs their trainer and assessor. Print Training Australia's experienced staff are available to explore tailored options that support participants in achieving competence, with a strong commitment to confidentiality.

Participant Support Services

Print Training Australia is committed to delivering quality support services to meet the needs of all participants. Our management practices ensure effective services, including the timely issuance of assessment results and qualifications.

To accommodate participants' vocational needs, programs are structured to allocate sufficient time for practical application of knowledge and skills, while considering individual circumstances.

Print Training Australia provides the following support to enhance the learning experience:

- > Continuous access to trainers and assessors
- > Detailed course information
- > Guidance on additional resources
- > Flexible delivery methodologies

Academic Support

Print Training Australia's dedicated team offers advice, support and assistance to participants facing challenges with their programs. Course progress is monitored through participation, task completion, and assessment responses.

Participants who do not initially demonstrate competency during assessments are offered tailored support, including:

- > Reasonable adjustments
- > Further training
- > One-on-one coaching
- > Additional learning resources
- > Alternate training or assessment methods

Specialist Support

Print Training Australia provides access to specialist services for participants with diverse needs, including but not limited to:

- > LLN support
- > Individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds
- > Persons from non-English speaking backgrounds
- > Participants with social skill challenges
- > People with disabilities
- > Participants in rural or isolated locations.

Prior to commencement of training, participants identified with LLN difficulties that could affect their ability to complete their studies may be referred to external specialist services. Print Training Australia collaborates with these services to ensure successful learning outcomes.

Processes are in place to identify, counsel, and provide appropriate support for participants with special needs through information sharing and/or referrals when necessary.

Trainer and Assessors

Print Training Australia will ensure that all its trainers and assessors:

- > Have the necessary training and assessment credentials.
- > Have the relevant vocational competencies at least to the level being delivered or assessed
- > Can demonstrate current industry skills directly relevant to the training program being trained/assessed and will continue to develop their Vocational Education and Training (VET) knowledge and skills, as well as their industry currency and trainer/assessor competence.

Your trainer and assessor can provide you with assistance on any aspect of the course content, resources, or assessment activities.

Workplace Mentor/Supervisor

Workplace mentors or supervisors will provide participants with support, coaching, and mentoring on the job. They can provide information and resources regarding relevant policies and procedures and assist participants with their training program. They may also contribute to some assessment tasks in conjunction with Print Training Australia Trainers and Assessors.

Traineeships and Apprenticeships require structured training withdrawal throughout the training program. A “structured training withdrawal” refers to the dedicated time during a participant’s regular work hours when they step away from their usual job duties to focus on formal training, learning, or assessment activities. Workplace mentors will facilitate and ensure structured withdrawal is afforded to all Australian Apprentice/Trainees within their workplace, to allow adequate time to develop the necessary skills and knowledge to demonstrate competence throughout the training program.

Participant Rights and Responsibilities

Participants and workplace mentors have rights and responsibilities governed by State and Federal legislation.

Participant Rights

All participants have the right to:

- Be treated fairly and with respect by all Print Training Australia employees and other participants.
- Not be harassed, victimised, or discriminated against on any basis.
- Learn in a supportive environment that is free from harassment, discrimination, and victimisation.
- Learn in a healthy and safe environment where the risks to personal health and safety are managed and minimised.
- Receive adequate withdrawal from routine work duties to undertake structured training activities.
- Have their personal details and records kept private and secure in accordance with applicable privacy legislations and Print Training Australia’s privacy policy.
- Access any information Print Training Australia holds about them, including their records free of charge (provided that their relevant tuition fees for the records they wish to access have been paid).
- Have their complaints dealt with fairly, promptly, confidentially, and without retribution.
- Make appeals about procedural and assessment decisions; all Print Training Australia internal complaints and appeals processing is free of charge.
- Receive training, assessment, and support services that meet their individual needs.
- Be given clear and accurate information about their course, training, and assessment arrangements, and their progress.
- Access the support they may need to effectively participate in their training program.
- Provide feedback to Print Training Australia on client services, training, assessment, and support services they received.

Participant Responsibilities

All participants, throughout their training and involvement with Print Training Australia, are expected to:

- treat all others with fairness and respect and to not do anything that could offend, embarrass or threaten others
- not harass, victimise, discriminate against or disrupt others
- treat all others and their property with respect
- respect the opinions and backgrounds of others
- follow all policies and procedures as directed by Print Training Australia employees
- report any perceived safety risks as they become known
- not possess any articles or items that may threaten the safety of self or others during training delivery
- notify Print Training Australia if any of their personal information or contact details change
- provide relevant and accurate information to Print Training Australia in a timely manner
- apply themselves to their course with due personal commitment and integrity
- observe honesty and academic integrity at all times in the completion of all assessment tasks, learning activities and assignments
- hand in all assessment tasks, assignments and other evidence of their work on time
- participate in regular contact with their trainer and assessor where directed
- progress steadily through their course in line with their training plan
- prepare appropriately for all assessment tasks, visits and training/coaching sessions
- notify Print Training Australia of any difficulties arising as part of their involvement in the program
- notify Print Training Australia of any inability to attend a workplace visit or training/coaching session for any reason at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to commencement of the activity
- not engage in smoking, alcohol consumption, or use of illicit drugs at training venues and on the premises of Print Training Australia
- make agreed payments for their training within agreed timeframes.
- adhere to Work Health and Safety (WHS) guidelines which include:
 - practicing behaviours that ensure the health and safety of oneself and others
 - refraining from willfully or recklessly interfering with, or misusing any equipment or resources provided by Print Training Australia in the interests of health, safety and welfare
 - avoiding the consumption of drugs and/or alcohol which may impair ones ability to maintain own health and safety or that of others

Structured Training Withdrawal

Structured Training Withdrawal (time spent on developing your skills and knowledge in the workplace) is an essential component of your development and is a mandatory requirement for all traineeship and apprenticeship participants.

Whilst it can vary week to week, your time on structured training activities must average out, per month, as follows:

- > 12 hours for full-time employees
- > Pro rata to the full time equivalent for part-time employees.

Training and Assessment Methods

Training by Print Training Australia is delivered using a variety of flexible approaches to learning, including techniques such as classroom-based learning (face to face and remotely), on the job instructions, self-paced learning, group-based learning, coaching, on-line learning and workplace training. Flexible delivery means providing training in a way that best suits employers and participants and to enable each to fulfil the requirements of the nationally recognised competencies.

Print Training Australia will, prior to the training program commencement, give participants all relevant information about the nationally recognised qualification, the requirements of the accredited training program or endorsed training package (if requested) and availability of learning resources and appropriate support services.

At all times, Print Training Australia will ensure that training and assessment occurs in accordance with the agreed training plan.

Training Delivery

The flexibility in training delivery incorporates options that best suit the individual's learning needs:

- Workplace delivery - Trainer and assessor-led training sessions on-site

- Workplace mentoring - Workplace mentors provide additional training and support to participants
- One-on-one coaching sessions
- Self-paced learning - working through training resources outside of scheduled training delivery.

Print Training Australia will comply with all laws relevant to the operation of the training premises including occupational health and safety and fire safety regulations and ensure that the training premises are of adequate size and have adequate heating, cooling, lighting and ventilation.

Print Training Australia will ensure that training facilities, equipment and courseware is adequate for the training program being delivered and are maintained in good working order.

Training methods or 'delivery modes' may include (but are not limited to):

- Face to face group workshops
- One-on-one coaching sessions
- Projects/assignments.

Assessment

To be awarded a qualification, a participant must be deemed as 'competent' in all units of competency prescribed for that course. In turn, in order to achieve competence in each unit, the participant must satisfactorily complete each prescribed assessment task. Primarily, these areas of competence and the associated assessments are based on performance criteria, skills, knowledge and foundation skills.

All training programs delivered by Print Training Australia are developed by referencing competency standards as set and endorsed by industry skills councils. Participant competency for each cycle in their training program will be assessed by qualified staff using strict assessment criteria. When a participant can demonstrate competency for the required number of units of competency specified for their training program, the full qualification will be awarded.

Where a participant can demonstrate competency for units of competency less than the required number to achieve a full qualification, a statement of attainment will be issued for the units in which competency was achieved. Participants who fail to demonstrate the required level of competency at the close of the program will be provided with information, advice and/or counselling on options or opportunities to achieve competence and be re-assessed.

Aside from these basic obligations, the fundamental philosophy of Print Training Australia is to be as practical as possible and relate both training programs and the associated assessments to industry applications. Therefore, industry standards of competence and skill level are the basis of assessment.

Wherever possible, a practical assignment or project will be used to assess a participant's competence. In many cases, however, the practical application is underpinned by structured, theoretical knowledge. The application of such knowledge may vary considerably, depending upon industry, organisation and business environment or situation. It is therefore necessary, in many cases, to measure a participant's theoretical knowledge using a variety of assessment methods over and above the assignment or project.

Some of the aforementioned delivery methods may also be used as methods of assessment and are complemented by other assessment methods that may include (but are not limited to):

- written questions
- demonstration (observations by the trainer and assessor)
- targeted oral questioning
- supervisor reports.

All assessment tasks must be completed satisfactorily in order for a competent result to be achieved. In turn, each unit of competency must be completed satisfactorily (competence achieved) to be issued the qualification.

Projects/Assignments

All projects should be completed to a standard expected in the workplace/industry. Therefore, all work should be to a professional level, properly labelled, well-presented and submitted on time.

All assessment tasks will come with a set of instructions which must be adhered to and all requirements met.

Whilst individual trainers and assessors may have specific requirements for an individual project, every project must have a cover sheet (provided in the participant's course folder). The information on the cover sheet must include (at a minimum);

- Trainer and assessor's name
- Participant's name
- Date of submission
- Participant's signature validating authenticity and compliance with rules on copyright and plagiarism.

All participants must take a copy of their work prior to submitting to their trainer and assessor. Copies can be requested at a later date and may incur an additional charge.

The 4 Golden Rules of Handing in Project Work

- Participants must keep a copy of all submitted work*
- Projects must be submitted by due date and time
- Projects must only be handed directly to the trainer and assessor of that subject or person nominated by the trainer and assessor to collect projects
- Projects must be accompanied by the cover sheet

*Print Training Australia accepts no responsibility for lost project work.

Deferred Assessment

In valid cases, a participant can apply for a Deferred Assessment (extension of deadline for submission of assessable work). Deferred Assessment must be arranged with the relevant trainer and assessor at least two (2) weeks (14 days) prior to the initial due date. The maximum time extension possible under this agreement is 14 days from the original due date.

In cases of hardship or extenuating circumstances, a participant may apply for special consideration in order to defer assessment further. Special consideration must be applied for through the trainer and Assessor at least two (2) weeks (14 days) prior to the due date of the project or assessment activity etc.

Competency Based Assessment

Competency based assessment is very flexible, so can be tailored to meet the needs of each individual participant. It is evidence based, which means that participants provide evidence of competence to the assessor. Some examples of evidence collection methods include:

- observation (made by the trainer and assessor) of skills demonstrated by the participant
- responses to case studies
- written assignments
- responses to questioning (verbal or written)
- completion of projects
- reflections (keeping a Journal for example)
- oral presentations.

Training and Assessment Standards

Print Training Australia is committed to delivering training and assessment consistent with the highest industry standards. Print Training Australia will:

- provide staff with necessary induction and training
- conduct regular reviews of training and assessment procedures
- consult with regulatory groups, staff and participants to assess the quality of training and assessment
- always seek to improve training and assessment procedures
- provide all the necessary resources to implement these processes.

Print Training Australia will adopt and maintain a quality assurance system for managing and monitoring all education and training operations and for reviewing staff and participant satisfaction. The system consists of mechanisms for monitoring and evaluating training materials, monitoring of assessment procedures, and stakeholder involvement in decision and policy making.

Participation and Mentor Feedback

Print Training Australia will collect and review feedback from all stakeholders: participants, employer representatives, industry representatives, Print Training Australia representatives and advisory bodies on a regular basis. All participants and workplace mentors will be asked to complete engagement surveys or evaluations during and at the completion of their training program. Stakeholder feedback will be utilised to review and improve Print Training Australia processes, including training and assessment and will be registered in a feedback register, against which, Print Training Australia will measure course and service quality and effectiveness via regular reviews. Any stakeholder feedback, which indicates practices by Print Training Australia and/or representatives that may be contrary to legislation, standards or codes of practice, will be acted upon immediately by Print Training Australia.

Many participants fear retribution if they provide any feedback that is not positive. It is important to remember that your frustrations (if encountered) may have been avoided if the participants before you had the confidence to raise the issue.

Print Training Australia is 100% committed to continuous improvement, but we can only act on the things of which we are aware. If you are concerned about confidentiality, these evaluations can be forwarded directly to your workplace mentor or supervisor to ensure anonymity when submitted to Print Training Australia.

As part of the VET Student Statistical Collection Guidelines, participants are also be requested to participate in a National Council for Vocational Education and Research (NCVER) survey during their trainee ship/apprenticeship program.

Participation/ Attendance

Like all vocational courses, the course you have enrolled in is underpinned by 'foundation skills' which include (but are not limited to) self-management, teamwork, communication, planning and organising and learning. The need to assess these skills, on top of the relevant technical skills, means attendance at all sessions and participation in all associated activities of each training cycle is critical. Much of the assessment is made by observation and demonstration which is impossible if a participant's attendance and participation is irregular.

To this aim, all participants' attendance and participation is recorded for each and every session in official attendance registers.

If a trainer and assessor has not been able to make adequate observations and has not had the opportunity to orally question a participant throughout the duration of training to assess underpinning knowledge and comprehension, the participant may be assessed as 'not yet competent' on the basis of a lack of evidence, which will inevitably delay the attainment of the qualification.

Absence/Missing Sessions

Where a participant anticipates absence from a session, a courtesy call to (or message left for) the trainer and assessor concerned will ensure that things like copies of class handouts are held aside. Where an absence of more than two sessions is anticipated, the trainer and assessor should be notified and a probable 'return to training date' should be advised.

In the event of absence from a session, it is the participant's responsibility to prepare themselves for the next session in their own time. The participant should take steps such as contacting the trainer and assessor to collect any handouts or copying class notes from fellow participants and studying the covered topics missed. The trainers and assessors are here to help, but it is not always possible to repeat group sessions for individual participants.

Change of Details

Participants must inform Print Training Australia of any changes to their address or contact details as originally advised in the enrolment form. They must also inform Print Training Australia of any other change that may be relevant to their training status as a participant. This prevents participants from missing any relevant correspondence sent to their personal address and ensures they can be contacted at all times.

Please select the "Contact" button on the Print Training Australia website <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/> to send an email to Print Training Australia notifying any changes.

Access and Equity

Print Training Australia's commitment to the principles of access and equity in vocational education and training gives practical expression to the Federal Government's goal of improving the knowledge, skills and quality of life for all Australians, having regard to the particular needs of target groups.

Print Training Australia is committed to ensuring that access and equity considerations are incorporated in the provision of training delivery and assessment. This means that all participants are entitled to the best possible training delivery. Print Training Australia achieves this by employing qualified and experienced staff, offering participants flexible training options and ensuring that the needs of each individual participant are recognised, customising each training experience to best suit their needs.

A participant should never feel that they are unable to complete their training for any reason. Access and equity are the responsibility of all staff members at Print Training Australia, however, participants who feel they are in this situation should contact the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) on 03 9292 8000. Where Print Training Australia cannot meet individual participant's needs and believes it cannot offer participants the best service possible, it will refer them to another training provider.

Safety and Security

Print Training Australia strives for excellence in workplace health and safety and is committed to providing an environment which is free from risks and conducive to the productivity and efficiency of its participants and others.

Print Training Australia meets the requirements of the Work Health and Safety in each state it operates and complies with all other relevant legislation, codes of practice, advisory and best practice standards as well as organisational policies and procedures. Please see Compliance with Legislation section of this Handbook for more information.

Participant Welfare

In order to protect the welfare of participants and to ensure participants have positive living, studying and working experiences, Print Training Australia:

- a. does not permit or require participants to attend classes (including time allocated for self-paced or online studies) for more than eight (8) hours in any one day, unless there is a legitimate course-related reason to do so and the registering body has given specific written exemption which specifies the differing maximum hours for the course. Participants will be notified where exemptions have been provided.
- b. does not permit or require full time participants to attend scheduled classes prior to 8:00am and/or after 10:00pm (including time allocated for self-paced or online studies), unless there is a legitimate course-related reason to do so, and the registering body has given specific written exemption which approves a different schedule. Participants will be notified and asked to sign an agreement to this arrangement in writing.

Respect for Others

Participants will be expected to treat Print Training Australia team members and fellow participants with respect and observe any particular conditions which may appear in this information booklet or that are raised during the course by a Print Training Australia team member. Inappropriate language or actions will not be tolerated.

In keeping with equal opportunity and anti-discrimination laws, no derogatory or prejudicial comments are acceptable with reference to a person's culture, disability, gender, sexuality, religion or age.

- Harassment and intimidation of Print Training Australia employees or fellow participants will not be tolerated.
- Facilities and equipment will be treated with due care and respect.
- All training and coaching sessions will commence on time. This includes after lunch and coffee breaks.
- Disruption of the learning environment or interference with the learning of others will not be tolerated.

Behaviour

Participants are expected to participate in all training activities and carry out any tasks within reason that may be requested by the trainer and assessor. Participants should complete these tasks to the best of their ability and in a timely manner. Repeated failure to complete set tasks or attend scheduled training may result in suspension of the training program. Trainers and assessors will then discuss an action plan with the participant to address the performance issue and provide them with opportunities to recommence training.

Consumption of, or being under the influence of, alcohol or illicit substances during training is unacceptable and will result in training being terminated or the participant being asked to leave the premises (subject to site regulations). Continued abuse of this nature may result in the participant's removal from the training program.

A participant's behaviour must not disrupt or threaten others. Abusive behaviour or physical violence can result in instant withdrawal from the program. All participants should behave in a way that reflects workplace/professional standards at all times. Participants should be punctual to all training and coaching sessions.

Etiquette

Given we are training in and for the workplace, a professional standard of behaviour is expected at all times. Courtesy, manners, punctuality, attendance and an appropriate standard of dress are all mandatory.

Participants whose attendance or behaviour is considered detrimental to their progress, or the progress of their fellow participants, may be asked to show cause why their enrolment should not be suspended or terminated and may face disciplinary action under Print Training Australia's disciplinary policy.

Dress and Hygiene

At a minimum, neat, comfortable clothing is generally considered appropriate when training off-the-Job.

Since participants will be working in close proximity with others, care with personal hygiene (clothing, hair, deodorant etc.) is required.

General Requirements

When engaged in off-site training (on Print Training Australia premises for example), participants should not leave handbags or other valuables unattended. Although the building is reasonably secure, participants are ultimately responsible for their own belongings. Print Training Australia accepts no responsibility for any belongings which may be stolen or misplaced during the training program.

Smoking is not permitted within the building or in such a way that blocks an entrance to the building.

If a participant has a personal health condition which may become critical while attending the course, please advise your trainer and Assessor or other staff member prior to commencing training. Any information will be treated in strict confidence and is only necessary to ensure that Print Training Australia can provide support or assistance should an emergency arise.

Should a participant be involved in an accident which results in personal injury and/or damage to equipment or facilities, trainer and assessor must be notified immediately.

Emergency procedures and exit plans must be followed. If a participant hears an alarm or a staff member advising of an emergency, they must follow the instructions given.

Academic Integrity

Print Training Australia's upholds a culture of academic integrity promoting ethical principles, honesty, fairness, and responsibility in all aspects of academic work. It is essential to Print Training Australia's reputation that any form of academic misconduct is dealt with promptly.

Participants are expected to submit their own original and current work for assessment. If participants are required to undertake research for their class work or assessments, they must properly and fully acknowledge their sources. Print Training Australia will not tolerate any kind of academic misconduct such as plagiarism, cheating, misrepresentation, unauthorised and inappropriate use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) or similar technology tools, engaging in improper collaboration when preparing designated, or any other forms of misconduct. Such actions constitute participant misbehaviour which may result in the cancellation of a participant's enrolment.

- a. Cheating means any dishonest or deceitful conduct in relation to the submission or classwork, assessments, assignments or other course related conduct. (example: copying work from another person is considered cheating).
- b. Contract Cheating is when students outsource their assessments to a third party, whether that is a commercial provider, current or former student, family member or acquaintance.
- c. Collusion means the unauthorised collaboration between a group of students in the preparation and production of work, which is ultimately submitted by each in an identical or similar form as to be the product of their own efforts.
- d. Misrepresentation refers to a situation where a student presents untrue information with the intention of misleading the assessor or lecturer. Misrepresentation can include but is not limited to:
 - submitting falsified, copied or improperly obtained data relating to results of practical work,
 - misleading with incorrect information on work placements, practicums, field trips or other work as if they were genuine;
 - altering or falsifying any evidence document or record for the purposes of gaining academic advantage;
 - deliberate attempts to deceive about assessment submission times, word counts, attendance or
 - misleading with incorrect information on participation in learning activities;
 - inclusion of citations to non-existent or incorrect sources.
- e. Plagiarism means using the ideas or expressions of someone else without acknowledging them and passing them off as one's own.

f. Use of AI Systems

The use of AI systems to generate, complete, or substantially contribute to student work is considered a breach of academic integrity. "Substantially contribute" refers to situations where AI-generated content forms a significant part of the submitted work, such as heavily relying on AI to develop ideas, compose large sections of text, solve problems, or conduct research without demonstrating the student's independent effort and understanding.

Students may use AI as a tool to assist with research and writing but not as a substitute for their critical thinking and analysis. The final submitted work must reflect the student's own ideas, insights, and understanding. AI-generated content can serve as inspiration or guidance, but assessments should be the student's original creation, analysis, and interpretation.

Academic misconduct may result in 'unsatisfactorily completed' marks for assessment tasks and may lead to disciplinary action. All participants involved in the offence, including both the copier and the person who knowingly allows their work to be copied, will be penalised. It is the responsibility of each participant to safeguard their work from being copied.

To determine whether an academic misconduct has occurred, Print Training Australia staff may interview all parties involved. Participants are encouraged to protect their work by keeping it secure at all times and to report any suspicions of academic misconduct to their trainer or assessor.

In some cases, participants may unintentionally engage in misconduct. To avoid this, ensure your work is sufficiently unique and independently demonstrates your competence, as each participant must prove their abilities individually.

Copyright

Copyright has been defined as the exclusive right to:

- reproduce work in a material form
- publish the work
- perform the work

You are not permitted to re-transmit, distribute or commercialise any information or material without seeking prior written approval from the author. Please be aware of the copyright laws related to material you want to reproduce. Copyright applies to material in all formats including digital.

Disciplinary procedures

Where a participant's behaviour is affecting the learning process, they will be asked to leave and be given a written warning. Re-entry to the training program will need to be negotiated with the trainer and assessor.

Any misconduct will result in an intervention meeting followed by a written warning. Any further incidents will result in termination from the training program without refund.

Serious misconduct will result in immediate termination from the training program. No refund will be available in this instance.

Misconduct

Misconduct includes, but is not limited to:

- theft
- fraud
- violence/assault/physical intimidation/abuse
- discrimination, harassment, intimidation or victimisation of others
- serious negligence including WHS non-compliance
- serious breach of confidentiality
- plagiarism/cheating
- refusing to carry out lawful and reasonable instructions
- wilful disobedience
- being affected by alcohol or drugs (both illegal and prescription) in that their faculties are so impaired that they are unfit to participate in activities.

Feedback

Print Training Australia welcomes feedback and opportunities for improvement.

Feedback/enquiries/requests may be submitted via the Print Training Australia website in the 'Contact' section <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/contact>. These may be made anonymously or with your contact details. Providing contact details allows for Print Training Australia to respond and keep you informed of outcomes.

Skills Recognition

What is skills recognition?

Skills recognition is the overarching term given to the recognition of skills and knowledge gained through formal and informal learning by the applicant. The Skills Recognition process can include Credit Transfer (CT) or Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). Skills recognition is where credits or exemptions can be applied to a participant's qualification, either an entire qualification, or individual subjects known as units of competency.

Definitions of the two main types of skills recognition are:

Credit transfer (CT) assesses the requirements of an initial course or subject that the individual is using to claim access to, or the award of credit in, the destination course. The assessment is used to determine the extent to which the achievement of the previous qualification is equivalent to the required learning outcomes, competency outcomes, or standards in another qualification.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) assesses and recognises the skills and knowledge an individual has achieved through prior education or work experience. This process evaluates the individual's formal and informal learning to determine whether the required learning outcomes or competency standards are met.

Procedure for Recognition of Prior Learning

The RPL process is introduced during the pre-training interview. Participants interested in applying are encouraged to discuss their prior learning and work experience to identify eligible units for RPL and the required supporting documentation, including the RPL Toolkit.

Participants will be guided on which sections to complete and the evidence portfolio needed to support their application. While the process typically begins during induction, participants may apply for RPL at any point during the training program.

Preliminary Interview

The applicant meets with the trainer and assessor to discuss the unit(s) content and what elements of competence must be addressed using employability skills attached to the qualification. Advice is provided on the evidence that can be submitted, assessment options (RPL tool vs Standard Assessment tool), outcomes of RPL, timeframes for submission and assessment and the select units for application (if applicable). Note: If applicant decides to pursue assessment only pathway, refer to Vocational Education guide for the relevant competencies.

Prepare Portfolio Application

The applicant collects documents and evidence to be submitted and then completes Recognition of Prior Learning form for each unit applied. The onus is then on the applicant to gather sufficient and appropriate evidence (as advised at the preliminary interview) or complete all assessment tasks in order to prove competence.

Lodgement of Application

If the applicant is confident after the preliminary interview of his or her chances of gathering sufficient evidence to demonstrate competence, or ability to complete the assessment tasks without training, an application form is completed and officially lodged along with any relevant supporting documents.

Review of Portfolio

The trainer and assessor completes review of evidence against the requirements of the units and completes assessment records for all units assessed. Trainer provides feedback and identifies areas where 3rd party verification is needed. If required, Trainer confirms/ verifies 3rd party reports.

Competency Conversation

The trainer and assessor will conduct interview with applicant; asking questions and recording responses to confirm understanding and will observe practical activity as required. The applicant is then notified of timeframe of assessment decision (usually within 14 days).

Notification of Outcome

Applicant will be informed in writing of the outcome of whether the recognition of prior learning will be either granted or refused, and for which units. If unsuccessful, the Applicant is provided with relevant information if they wish to re-submit their application for Recognition or appeal the decision.

Procedure for Credit Transfer

Training Program Induction

Participants will be inducted into the training program as for all training programs and provided information on Skills Recognition processes and procedures.

Lodgement of Application

The applicant receives and completes the Credit Transfer Application form and attaches a certified copy of the Qualification or Statement of Attainment. The Credit Transfer Application form is then submitted to Print Training Australia.

Review of Credit Transfer Application

The National Training Manager must check the Qualification or Statement of Attainment and grant credit transfers for a unit(s) of competency that has been completed at a TAFE college or any other Registered Training Organisation. Decision is made on the granting of the credit transfer.

Notification of Outcome

Applicant will be informed in writing of the success of their credit transfer application.

Training Completions and Withdrawals

Training Withdrawal

If a participant wishes to terminate their enrolment, they must ensure the relevant trainer and assessor is informed immediately and an intention to withdraw form must be completed.

This will ensure that any entitled Certificate/Statement of Attainment can be awarded to the participant promptly.

Training Completion

Successful completion will be determined when the participant is deemed competent in all units of competency within the training program. Print Training Australia will issue full certificates and statements of attainments that show the following:

- > Name of the provider as shown on the certificate of registration
- > Name of the person receiving the qualification
- > Name of the training qualification as shown on the scope of registration
- > Date of issue
- > Authorised signatory of CEO
- > Nationally recognised training logo where courses are nationally recognised
- > Units of competency achieved on any certification issued in relation to courses based on national competency standards
- > AQF recognition, either logo or appropriate wording Partial Completion

Statements of Attainment will be issued to participants who satisfactorily complete either units of competency from a nationally recognised qualification, or a module from an accredited course that is on the scope of registration.

Qualification Reprints

At the rates documented in the Print Training Australia National Fees Booklet, participants may request reprints of the following documents issued by Print Training Australia:

- > Reprint of Original Certificate
- > Reprint of Transcript

If the reprint requires the retrieval of information from archives then additional fees do apply. Submit your request for a Certificate Reprint Request Form via the Print Training Australia website in the 'Contact' section <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/contact> .

Complaints

Complaint means any act or omission that a customer or potential customer of Print Training Australia believes to be unfair or discriminatory and relates to any Print Training Australia activity. It can include complaints related to academic and non-academic matters such as:

- Content or structure of training programs;

7. The outcome of the investigation will be either a resolution or will initiate a formal complaint;
8. A client can initiate the formal complaint process independent of this investigation.

Complaint Procedure

Stage 1 - Informal complaint process

Sometimes students may have a complaint or be unhappy about a particular decision or action of the College or of a trainer and assessor or other College staff members.

For Academic complaints students should approach the trainer and assessor. There may have inadvertently been a mistake or misunderstanding which they can quickly rectify. Many problems can be resolved by the trainer and assessor on the spot and the trainer can give the student information which clears up the problem. For any other issues, students should email admin@printtrain.edu.au .

If the student is not satisfied with the trainer and assessor's or the staff member's response or the matter is more serious, student may lodge a formal complaint. Refer to Stage 2 - Formal Complaints Process below. The internal formal complaint processing of Print Training Australia is free of charge.

Stage 2 – Formal complaint process

Non- Academic issues:

6. If the matter is unresolved, it will be referred to the CEO for review within 10 working days of concluding the investigation of the complaint;
7. The complainant is provided with a written statement of the outcome which outlines the details of the decision by the CEO. The written statement will be provided by the CEO within 5 working days from the time the decision was made;
8. If required to attend a formal meeting/mediation session, the complainant may be accompanied at the meeting by a representative (cost of attendance of the representatives attendance is borne by the complainant

Appeals Process

1. If a stakeholder remains unsatisfied with the outcome of their complaint, a written statement detailing their appeal is to be lodged with the CEO via admin@printtrain.edu.au ;
2. The CEO will delegate the appeal to the relevant manager for review of the original outcome and the grounds for the appeal. They will consult as necessary to investigate the appeal;
3. The relevant manager will contact the appellant within 10 working days of receipt to discuss the reasons of the appeal, investigate and identify solutions:
4. The desired outcome will be discussed with relevant stakeholders and a solution agreed to:
5. The CEO or delegate will advise the appellant in writing of the outcome of their appeal within 10 working days of concluding the investigation of the appeal;
6. If an agreed solution cannot be reached the appellant may escalate the appeal to the Executive Committee by sending an email to admin@printtrain.edu.au
7. The appellant is provided with a written statement of outcome which outlines the details of the decision. The written statement will be provided by the CEO within 3 working days of the conclusion of the investigation;
8. If the student is unable to resolve the matter with Print Training Australia, appellant may contact Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA). The complaint can be submitted via ASQAs online complaints portal (<https://www.asqa.gov.au/about-us/how-asqa-uses-feedback/complaints-about-training-providers>)
9. ASQA is not a consumer protection agency and cannot act as an advocate for individual students.

Record-keeping and Confidentiality

All outcomes relating to stakeholder complaints will be reviewed at the Continuous Improvement and Compliance Committee meetings at least quarterly and will be documented within the Complaints Register.

Details of all complaints, whether informal or formal, and whether academic or non-academic matters, are recorded and stored in the Complaints Register, and in the participant's/employer's file(s) by the CEO.

These records will be treated as confidential, retained for five years, and parties to the complaints process can have appropriate supervised access to these records. These records may be accessed free of charge (provided that their relevant tuition fees for the records they wish to access have been paid).

Assessment Appeal

Assessment Appeal Procedure

1. Participant (or their employer) discusses the result with their trainer and assessor to attempt to resolve the appeal.
2. If resolved, the participant is provided with a written outcome of appeal and reason for decision within 5 working days.
3. If the matter is not resolved, the participant is to complete an Assessment Appeal Form (available on the Print Training Australia website <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/participant-information> and lodge it with the National Training Manager.
4. The National Training Manager will review the original assessment decision and subsequent decisions and the grounds for the appeal. They will consult as necessary to investigate the appeal.
5. The National Training Manager will provide the participant with a written outcome of the appeal and, if necessary, arrange for training records to be amended to reflect the outcome, within 10 working days of the lodgment of the appeal.
6. If the participant is still dissatisfied with the decision, they can lodge an official complaint with regard to the process or outcome. Refer to the Complaint Procedure.

External Complaint Resolution

If the complainant is dissatisfied with the outcome of the complaint at the end of the internal process, they may wish to have the matter dealt with through an external dispute resolution process.

The following principles will be adhered to by both parties:

Discussion/Negotiation

The parties agree that in the event of a dispute arising, they shall first meet and attempt to resolve issues of concern by means of discussion and personal negotiation. If this process does not resolve the issues, they shall refer the matter to mediation.

Arbitration or Litigation

It is a condition precedent to the right of either party to commence arbitration or litigation (other than for interlocutory relief) that they must first offer to submit the dispute to mediation.

Complaints to the Regulator

If the complainant wishes to make an official complaint to the regulator, they can complete the Complaint about a training organisation operating under ASQA's jurisdiction form provided by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) on their website: <https://www.asqa.gov.au/about-us/how-asqa-uses-feedback/complaints-about-training-providers>

Fees, Credits and Refunds

Invoices

Tax invoices will be issued to the payee for all applicable fees, including tuition, materials, and amenities, where relevant. A copy of the tax invoice will be kept in the payee's file, whether the fees are invoiced to an employer or directly to an individual participant.

Where a client is to be invoiced for the tuition fees of their employee's undertaking government funded training, the invoice must clearly indicate the names of those employees for whom the invoice applies.

Invoices for tuition fees for government funded training should not include amounts for other services provided to the employer. These should be invoiced separately.

Invoicing to clients will be in line with Payment Options agreed to as per signed Service Level Agreement between the client and Print Training Australia.

Fees can be found on <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/> Participant information page.

Invoicing

All fees and charges are developed and executed as per the requirements of Print Training Australia's State government agreements and the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 or its successor.

Clients (employers) and participants will be communicated all fee information in writing prior to the completion of the enrolment process.

Clients (employers) will be made aware of Print Training Australia's Fees, Credit and Refund policy, available in our website <https://www.printtrain.edu.au/participant-information>.

The person responsible for payment for all participants will be captured as part of the Print Training Australia enrolment process. Under a traineeship/apprenticeship arrangement, the participant's employer may pay these fees.

Concessions may apply as per State government regulations; evidence demonstrating minimum concession requirements (usually a Health Care Card) or evidence of financial hardship for each individual participant will be required to access a reduced enrolment fee or to be exempt from an enrolment fee. A copy of evidence must be retained on the participant's file. Refer to the Print Training Australia Concessions Policy for fee structure and concessions that may apply.

Fees payable to Print Training Australia upon completion of training will be invoiced by Print Training Australia when final training has been delivered.

All fees and charges for the delivery of training and assessment services must be approved by the CEO prior to their publication, quotation to clients or tender submission.

Credits/ Adjustment Notes

- a. Credit of enrolment fees that have been invoiced, but not paid:
 - i. Print Training Australia will provide an adjustment note if training has not commenced at the time of the cancellation of the enrolment.
 - ii. Where a participant has commenced (when the Print Training Australia trainer conducts the first visit) a unit of competency, but withdrawn prior to completion, no credits will apply.
- b. Credit of Fee for Service:
 - i. Fees that have been invoiced but not paid Print Training Australia will provide an adjustment note if training has not commenced (when the Print Training Australia trainer conducts the first visit) at the time of the cancellation of the enrolment.
 - ii. Where a participant has commenced a unit of competency, but withdrawn prior to completion of that unit, no credit will apply. Credits will be provided for the outstanding units that have not commenced if payment has been received, but the student has not commenced those units of competency.

Exemptions to the credits policy may be granted at the discretion of Print Training Australia's CEO.

Where a participant withdraws from training, an adjustment note will only be raised where that participant has not commenced training.

Cancellation of Training Session by the Client

If scheduled training sessions are cancelled by the Employer without at least three days written notice to Print Training Australia, Print Training Australia reserves the right to charge a session cancellation fee of $250 per Participant and a minimum of $2,000 each and every subsequent time.

If a training session is cancelled with less than 24 hours' notice, Print Training Australia reserves the right to charge for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred as a result of the late cancellation.

Apprenticeship Fees

Print Training Australia has an enrolment fee and an annual fee for apprenticeships. The enrolment fee, as published in the Print Training Australia National Fees Booklet, is invoiced at enrolment.

Traineeship Fees

No discount can be applied to enrolment fees for participants eligible for State government funding. Any applicable discount is automatically forfeited when invoices are not paid by the due date.

Print Training Australia offers three payment methods for traineeships:

- Commencement and Completion Payment. An enrolment fee, as published by Print Training Australia, is charged post participant induction. The residual 50% of the commencement fee is invoiced prior to Cycle 1 training commencing. The remaining 50% of the fee is invoiced once the final workshop of the last cycle is complete. Invoicing payment terms are 14 days.

Enrolment fee varies between states.

- Pay As You Train - Cycle Payment. An enrolment fee, as published by Print Training Australia, is charged after the participant induction session is complete. The residual (in equal payments) is paid prior to the commencement of each training cycle. An invoice for each cycle payment is raised prior to the commencement of each cycle and payment terms are 14 days. A 5% discount is offered off the Fee for Service rate for this option.

Enrolment fee varies between states.

- Full Upfront Payment. An invoice will be raised for the total course fee after the participant induction session is complete. A 10% discount is offered off the Fee for Service rate for this option. Invoicing payment terms are 14 days.

Enrolment fee varies between states.

If course fees are being paid by the employer, invoicing and payment terms are outlined in the Service Level Agreement (SLA) between Print Training Australia and the employer. For any questions regarding fees or payment arrangements, please refer to your employer or request clarification from Print Training Australia.

Refunds

Where Print Training Australia has received payment for training fees prior to training commencing, a refund will be paid to the client if the participant withdraws prior to the commencement of training. If there is an outstanding account balance owed by the client to Print Training Australia the credit will be applied to this account at the first instance.

If Print Training Australia is unable to deliver a course due to unforeseen circumstances or circumstances outside Print Training Australia's control, Print Training Australia will refund any fees collected in advance, less reasonable out of pocket expenses including, but not limited to, course design, travel and accommodation, provision of course material and recovery of costs for training delivered.

Additional Fees

Print Training Australia reserves the right to charge for reprints of transcripts, certificates and retrieval of information from archives per the National Fees Booklet.

Short Course Fees

Short course fees are invoiced and payable upon enrolment.

A certificate of participation will be issued for delivery of a short course which is not an assessable nationally qualified unit.

A full refund will be issued if the course is cancelled by Print Training Australia.

Written applications for refunds and transfers will be accepted within two clear working days before the course is due to start. A $50 handling fee will apply.

A 50% refund will apply if participant cancels within 24 hours before the course commences. No refunds or transfers will be valid once the course commences.

Records Management/Confidentiality

Storage of records

All records retained by Print Training Australia will be kept secure. Confidential information will be safeguarded to avoid theft, fire, flood, vermin or any other pests. Records will be available for perusal by auditors upon request and at a scheduled audit.

Records will be stored in hard copy and/or electronic formats (VETtrak) with any electronic records being backed up regularly. In the instance of electronic records, the mechanism or software by which the material can be retrieved will be made available to the registering body at no charge.

Information about a participant will not be disclosed to a third party without the written consent of the participant.

Participant access to own record

1. All requests for access to a participant's personal file are forwarded to the CEO. Participants can access their own records free of charge (provided that their relevant tuition fees for the records they wish to access have been paid)
2. The appointed delegate will seek 100 points of identification to verify that the person seeking access to the information, is the participant that is requesting details. Points must be calculated in accordance with the 'Proof of Identity- Documents required'.
3. Once the appointed delegate verifies 100 points of identification, the appointed delegate copies the originals as proof of identification and instructs the Filing Clerk to retrieve the file and/or copy of document requested.
4. The appointed delegate supervises participant access to the file or provides a copy of the documentation from the file that was requested.
5. The appointed delegate instructs staff to place the copies of identification on the participant file together with a file note in VETtrak of the date and details of the file accessed and/or the copy of the document requested.
6. When documents and/or file is returned, staff place copies of identification and details of requested access on the participant's file.

For further details regarding participant access to own records or proof of identity please contact us at admin@printtrain.edu.au .
